

The Sonoma Valley Film Society donated $25,000

The Sonoma Valley Film Society donated $25,000 to the Sonoma Valley Education Foundation for the junior filmmaking program at Sonoma Valley High School. From left, Marc Lhormer, president of the film society, Steve Ledson of the Harmony Foundation, film teacher Peter Hansen, and Tim Boeve of the education foundation. In addition, the Vadasz Foundation and other film society members contributed to the gift. Many of the student films created this year in the program can be seen at the upcoming Sonoma Valley Film Festival, April 11-15.

